CORE COMPLIANCE GROUP, INC. ACQUIRES DIVISION OF WRIGHT-WAY ENTERPRISES INC.

CRANBERRY TOWNSHIP, PA – January 4, 2011. Core Compliance Group, Inc. (CCG) is pleased to announce the recent acquisition of the Health, Safety and Environmental (HSE) Division of Wright-Way Enterprises, Inc. (WWE), a professional organization providing complete safety, health and industrial hygiene services. S. Andrew (Andy) Wright, RPIH, former President of WWE, has joined CCG as Manager of Safety, Training and Industrial Hygiene Services. A seasoned professional, Mr. Wright has more than 18 years of diverse experience in safety, process safety management, training, industrial hygiene and environmental experience

“We are excited to have the opportunity to acquire a professional organization with the capabilities and solid reputation offered by Wright-Way Enterprises,” states Mary Rose Thomas-Glaser, President of CCG. “The addition of WWE's assets and Andy Wright as Manager immediately expands our client base in the chemical, petroleum and industrial sectors, our capabilities into new service areas such as Leak Detection and Repair (LDAR), Non-Destructive Testing (NDT) for Marcellus Shale firms, and enhances our industrial hygiene capabilities and services. This acquisition also expands our geographic footprint into the states of Texas, Kansas, Colorado and California.”

“Proper management of HSE issues requires a complex balance of resource people management, technology integration, and regulatory compliance. Companies need creative, multidisciplinary approaches to managing HSE liabilities to achieve corporate profitability goals while protecting workers, reducing liability and preventing pollution. This acquisition makes sense and I believe will further enhance CCG’s ability to provide clients with custom innovative and comprehensive solutions for managing HSE liabilities,” states Andy Wright.
